Each Dollar Amount Has Its Own Lifespan

Money doesn't last forever—literally!

Some bills stay in circulation much longer than others.

According to the U.S. Currency Education Program, $10 bills wear out the fastest, while $100 bills have the longest lifespan. Here's how long each denomination typically lasts:

$1 bill: 6.6 years / $5 bill: 4.7 years
$10 bill: 5.3 years / $20 bill: 7.8 years
$50 bill: 12.2 years / $100 bill: 22.9 years

Every dollar has a story—some just last longer than others.

Spring Savings Tips

Spring is the perfect time for a financial refresh! Just like decluttering your home, tidying up your finances can help you feel more organized and in control. Here are some simple ways to boost your savings this season:

- Review Your Budget—Look for areas to cut back, like unused subscriptions or dining out. Small changes add up!
- Set a Savings Goal—Whether you're planning a summer trip or building an emergency fund, having a clear goal can help you stay on track.
- Start a Sinking Fund—Planning for upcoming expenses? Set aside a little each month to avoid last-minute stress.
- Explore Investment Options—Consider starting or growing your investment portfolio to help build long-term wealth. Consider one of our share certificates for a high-yield, fixed-term investment option.
